

FREE WORKSHOP ON CLINICAL TRIALS

This free workshop focuses on building awareness about clinical trials.

If your life is impacted by cancer, whether you have a diagnosis or are a friend or family member of someone who does, you are invited to join us as we learn how clinical trials are structured and how to foster an open dialogue with your health care team about the eligibility and the viability of clinical trials as a treatment option. You will also learn about the importance of shared decision making and will be introduced to resources to help facilitate these conversations.
